It is a well known fact that India has given the world a way to live. Philosophy of life which is disseminated by Bharat, is still alive and being discussed to establish peace in the world. Centuries old country Bharat has been teaching the global community a system of existence. Indian mythology is full of the examples where souls have sacrificed everything for the welfare of others. We can see the example of Sage Dadhichi, Jad Bharat, Harishchandra, King Mordhwaj. Harinyakshyapu, Sita, Parashuram, Karna, Vishvamisra, Vashishtha, Prahalad, Eklavya, Sati, Sita, Ahilya and many stories related to the Indian method of conserving wild life. It is only in Indian thought the concept of coexistence is developed through mythology not among various casts and creeds but also among humans and wild life. Indian philosophers knew that the sustenance of life will be difficult without safeguarding feral verve. It can be mentioned that no theme has been remained untouched from the pen of Bharatiya intellectuals. I would like to mention that this mythology of sages encompasses every theme good or bad that happened, happens or will happen in the world. Their visionary musing could recognize everything that may happen and they penned every such issue. Mythology is very vast subject that can encircle the every grain of the earth. Indian mythology has always provided world with the vision for its benefit.
